HONORABLE LYNNE A. SITARSKI
United States Magistrate Judge

In the Matter of the Seizure of :
One or More Tons of United States Gold : CRIMINAL NO. 18-mj-363

All documents in this matter are currently under seal. The Associated Press and The Philadelphia Inquirer, PBC (“Intervenors”) had previously sought to unseal documents in the related matters in Criminal Nos. 18-mj-361 (Motion for Seizure Warrant and Order for Seizure Warrant) and 18-mj-362 (Motion for Writ of Entry and Order for Writ of Entry onto land owned by the Pennsylvania Department of Conservation & Natural Resources (“DCNR”)). The government had informed counsel for Intervenors that the underlying investigation of these matters is closed, and the government did not oppose the request to make those documents publicly available, on the condition that the names of any of the government’s sources were redacted, in accordance with the government’s policy not to publicly reveal such sources. Court orders unsealing these matters with the requested redactions were entered by the Honorable Timothy R. Rice on Thursday, June 24, 2021. Intervenors have now requested the government to unseal documents in an additional related matter, Criminal No. 18-mj-363, relating to an additional writ of entry to cross private land to enter DNR land. The government agrees to this request, and asks the Court to enter an order for the following: (1) that the documents in this matter are to be unsealed, with the exception of the Writ of Entry, the Motion for Writ of Entry and Attachment A, all of which contain the names of private property owners who have no direct involvement with the underlying investigation; (2) the government shall file an unsealed version of the Writ of Entry and Motion for Writ of Entry, with the names of the two private property owners redacted and replaced with Property Owner 1 and Property Owner 2, respectively, and Attachment A redacted from the documents. Intervenor agrees with the government's request. A proposed order is attached.

Respectfully submitted,
